

Murland Mausoleum

Neo-classical/baroque mausoleum built c.1860. Rectangular in plan and in part built below ground level. Treated in vermiculated rustication the gable walls support a low pediment adorned with acanthus and scrollwork detail. A giant order of consoles flanked by flambeau support a cornice. The roofline boasts acroteria, antefixae and draped urn finials.

Year Created

1860

Style

Neo-Classical

History

No Inscription. It is believed the Murland family were connected to the linen industry.

Condition

Excellent condition (2003).

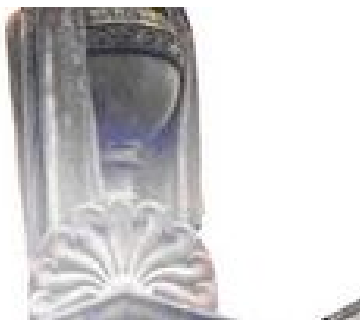

Sources

RSJ Clarke, Gravestone Inscriptions: County Down. Ulster-Scot Historical Society (1966-1998).

M. Craig, Mausolea Hibernica. Dublin Lilliput Press (1999).

J Beattie, The Mausolea of County Down and Greater Belfast. Unpublished Dissertation, Queens University Belfast (2003).

Location

Clough Non-Subscribing Presbyterian Graveyard
Castlewellan Road
Clough
Downpatrick
County Down
Northern Ireland
BT30 8ND