

Emerson Mausoleum

The mausoleum is attached to the east end of the chapel. Both buildings are designed in the Early English style, but the mausoleum is more lavishly decorated than the chapel. It is octagonal on plan, with a pyramidal roof and blank arcading to the walls. The interior contains shelves for coffins.

Church of St Agatha
Easby
North Yorkshire
TS9 6JQ
England

Scan for Google Maps Link

Architects

J. Fowler

Year Built

1881

Style

--

Listing

Grade II (England and Wales)

Condition

Fair, the roof is beginning to need attention (2002).

History

The church of St Agatha was built as a private chapel by the Emerson family following the death of Anne Emerson in 1880. Although it belongs to the Church of England, as time goes on the church is being used less and less for worship. The current owners of Easby Hall take care of the building.

Sources

BoE: Yorks North Riding (1966), 148.

Photos

Location

SatNav Co-ordinates: 54.39764273662938, -1.715812589709616