

Malcolmson Mausoleum

A well handled Gothic Revival mausoleum which still retains its decorative detail and original door intact.

Kensal Green Cemetery
Harrow Road
London
W10 4RA
England

Scan for Google Maps Link

Architects

Lander and Co, monumental masons

Year Built

1861

Style

Gothic Revival

Listing

--

Condition

Fair. The stone is beginning to spall, and the stone slab over the vault is falling in. (2002).

History

James Malcolmson (1802-1861) of Muchrach, Invernesshire was a Senior Partner of Forbes and Company, the East India Merchants. His son, who is also interred in the mausoleum, was given the Victoria Cross in 1857 at the battle of Khoosh-ab in Persia. "The gallant young lieutenant...fought his way to his dismounted comrade through a crowd of enemies...and giving him his stirrup, safely carried him through everything out of the throng."

Sources

GCC Register;
G O'M Creagh: The VC and DSO: A Complete Record (1924);
Kelly's Directory (1859);
NPC 1861.

Online Links

Friends of Kensal Green Cemetery website

Photos

Location

SatNav Co-ordinates: 51.5279149803, -0.2210809768