

Legerton Mausoleum

A simple red brick mausoleum with a low pitched slate roof standing in a corner of the graveyard

Churchyard of United
Reformed Church
The Green
Wethersfield
Essex
CM7 4BW
England

Scan for Google Maps Link

Architects

Not known

Year Built

1829

Style

--

Listing

Grade II (England and Wales)

Condition

Good (2002).

History

The Legertons lived in Shalford, but worshiped in the nonconformist church two miles away in Wethersfield. The church is dated 1822, and the mausoleum was evidently built soon after this as the earliest burial there was that of Mariann Legerton who died in 1829 aged fifteen years. She is commemorated by an oval plaque above the doorway (now bricked up) while the names and dates of death of other members of the family are inscribed on tablets to either side. The next burial was that of Isaac Legerton, who died in 1832 aged eighty four, and the last, John Stock Legerton of White Hall, Shalford, who died in 1885.

Sources

Photos

Location

SatNav Co-ordinates: 51.954209, 0.488675