

Johnston Mausoleum

Gable-fronted two-bay mausoleum built in the decorated gothic style having apse to east. Pitched stone slabbed roof having raised verges. Squared-and-snecked red ashlar walls with stepped buttresses. Pointed-arch headed windows with hood mouldings and leaded glass lights. Pointed-arch headed entrance doorway to principal facade having curvilinear tracery overlight, bossed surround and the initials 'AI' and 'LJ' carved into flanking spandrels. Timber double-leaf doors with decorative strapwork hinges. Sited on an elevated aspect approached by a flight of steps. Rib-vaulted interior with encaustic floor tiles.

Carnsalloch
Kirkton
Dumfries & Galloway
DG1 1SL
Scotland

Architects

E B Lamb

Year Built

c.1850

Style

Gothic Revival

Listing

Grade A (Scotland)

Condition

Poor condition – heavily overgrown with extensive damage to the roof and windows (June 2017).

History

Family burial ground of the Johnstons of Carnsalloch House.

Sources

Historic Environment Scotland. 2017. CARNSALLOCH CHAPEL AT THE MOUNT. [ONLINE] Available at: <http://portal.historicenvironment.scot/designation/LB10301>. [Accessed 12 November 2017].

Photos

Location

SatNav Co-ordinates: 55.106419, -3.614218